

Marcela

by Guillermo Muñiz, read by Juliette Cortez, Heights 5th grader

*She is tender, like a rose;
She is refreshing, like a morning breeze.
She is polite, like a young girl;
She is warm, like the morning sun.
She is friendly, like a young puppy;
She is excitable, like a cheerleader.
She is happy, like a bell;
She is determined, like a baby ready to be born.*

*She is bright, like a shining star;
She is thoughtful, like a young mother.
She is my new love,
The wonderful kind of love, almost I forgot.*

*She is a beautiful gift God gave to us,
Just like my two other guys.
She is a rainbow;
She is almost everything.*

*She is my princess;
She is Marcela.*

Today

by Guillermo Muñiz, read by Jalissa Baldera, Los Medanos 5th grader

*Today is a beautiful day.
Today, your smile is friendly and bright and fresh.*

*I love today, like yesterday,
And I love to live tomorrow
just like today.*

*How nice it is going to be when my eyes are open and I can see another beautiful day like today.
And see your friendly
and fresh-bright smile again.*

*I am so happy for today;
I am so happy for yesterday;
I am so happy for tomorrow;*
